Case Summary Notes

111hrs. 3(s)(1)(A) Enterprise: Ind.: ER had change ownership at the time of INV. Therefore the INV period was less than 24 months. However, ER refuse to comply by not paying the additional half time on overtime worked on the temporary construction worke rs. ER is currently in business. Therefore, BW could double the estimated amount. Recommend Litigation.

Case Conclusion Notes

File had a 2nd JRC on 10/31/01. RSOL $\boxed{\text{EX.7(C)}}$ recommended that W&H investigate the companies using the temp employees and that is who litigation should be taken against. He stated that this firm could be considered a payroll service even though Eagl e hires and fires, and pays the employees. Case closed with no further action to collect monies. Back wages were estimations.

Sec. 16b notification could not be taken since there was no particular employees listed with monies due.
